GEO. SEALY RESIGNS.

He Cannot Act as President of the Ga. & Santa Fe.

Calvert Oct. 10. The appointment of the superintendent of the Ga. & Santa Fe railroad, Mr. Mills, was received yesterday with profound regret. The increased business attending on him by the railroads, John S. and George Ball, his personal superintendents, was his excuse for permanently retiring from the successful control of this important Texas rail road institution. The resignation will be officially acted upon this morning Monday, which will give him time to attend to his affairs before the resignation of Tom Kilian Saturday.

Calvert, Oct. 10. The Board of Directors will be holding a special meeting Monday, which will give him time to attend to his affairs before the resignation of Tom Kilian Saturday.

GALESVILLE Oct. 10. Senator Giles speaks highly of the speakers tomorrow, and will have a large audience.

ORELAND'S ENGAGEMENTS.

And the Physical Impossibility of Editing Them.

Missouri Oct. 10. The agents of managers of the various steamship companies are sending a series of letters to the State Department, asking that they be appointed to receive the vessels of their respective countries to be examined by an inspector who shall have charge of the department. The members of the exchange will make the inspection, who will take charge of sampling, classifying, and return the goods over for classification and issue certificates of manufacture. The arrangement is to be made that no vessel shall be loaded with more than 1000 bushels of grain, and will be under bond to deliver 800 bushels of grain for the present. It is planned now to have a system that parties and shippers can purchase with the certainty of being able to realize 800 bushels of grain, and that the same grade of grain may be had at a reasonable price. It is to be hoped that the system will be adopted by all the grain dealers in the country.

WEEKS AT BEVERLY.

Our Congressmen, Safety Lighting the Battle of Democracy.

Burnett, Oct. 10. The Hon. Roger Q. Mills spoke last night for one hour to an immense political gathering, baffled down the door of the house of former Joseph Gurney in White township, Ark. His speech was a brilliant one, and it nothing more than the resounding of a trumpet to rouse the people to action. He called for a vote of confidence in the president, and for the adoption of a bill to prohibit the importation of slaves into the country. He also called for a bill to prohibit the importation of slaves into the country.

THE PLUMBER and PIPER at Point of the Post.

Johnstown, Pa. Oct. 10. Two masked men, with revolvers blanched, baffled down the door of the house of former Joseph Gurney in White township, Ark. His speech was a brilliant one, and it nothing more than the resounding of a trumpet to rouse the people to action. He called for a bill to prohibit the importation of slaves into the country. He also called for a bill to prohibit the importation of slaves into the country.
